Alternatively, you may also use these materials with other RPG Makers, as long as you have a valid and legal license for both engines. You may not use these materials in other game-development software.

For licensing questions not covered by the paragraphs above, please contact us: support@rpgmakerweb.com

Redistribution of material by itself is not allowed, regardless of whether the material is shared in part only or in its entirety. Personal edits of material are allowed, but they may not be shared with others via e-mail, file-hosting services or physical transfer (ex. By placing the material on a CD) – for free or for a price.

Resources may be packaged with commercial or non-commercial games and shared as long as the project is encrypted and not shared for the purpose of distributing full or partial MZ Character Generator Pack content.

You may not sell or donate the pack to someone else or sell a sub-license for its use.

In cases of team projects, all members of the team must own their own copy of the pack.
